POSITIONS AVAILABLE
Seasonal Archaeologists

PAL, a leading cultural resource management consulting firm in New England, seeks experienced archaeologists located in the Northeast for 2020 projects for a variety of clients. Undergraduate degree and previous CRM experience in the eastern United States is required. Projects are both local, and do not include housing and per diem, and some involve travel with housing and per diem provided.

Your employment experience must include:

- Performing archaeological survey and/or excavation at job sites using hand excavation equipment
- Conducting fieldwork in a wide range of physically demanding conditions
- Identifying pre- and post-contact cultural materials and completing standardized field forms and drawings
- Recognizing a range of soil and ground conditions and recording soil color, texture, and composition
- Using maps, compass, and/or GPS

Additional requirements include:

- Ability to travel without restriction Monday through Friday (occasional weekend time may be required)
- Working outdoors in variable conditions including heat, cold, moisture, and dryness
- Capability to meet the physical demands of the position, with or without a reasonable accommodation, including:
  - frequent repetitive bending and stooping, standing/walking/hiking
  - lifting of 25 pounds
  - gripping/squeezing hand tools and performing repetitive fine hand movements
  - occasionally working with arms above shoulder level
- Wearing personal protective equipment (supplied by PAL), including safety glasses/goggles, hard hats, and gloves
- Providing own field boots that meet nationally recognized safety standards
- Having a valid driver’s license and the ability to safely operate a company vehicle
- Ability to pass a background check if required by clients

Pay rate is commensurate with experience. Qualified applicants should send a resume and cover letter to: oadmin@palinc.com and include the word Fieldwork in the email’s subject line.
